Best Lawyers® has released its 2024 Best Law Firm national rankings and Ruberto Israel & Weiner's Construction Litigation Practice Area achieved "Tier 1," the highest ranking given. "It's an honor to be included among the top law firms in the country for construction litigation," noted RIW President and Litigation Department Chair, Bradley Croft. "This recognition is a testament to the collective effort and talents of every member of our Construction Law team and to our clients who have placed their trust in us."

Achieving a tiered ranking in Best Law Firms signals a unique combination of high-quality legal expertise and is based on criteria including client and lawyer evaluations and peer reviews.
