APPROACH

Ruberto, Israel & Weiner's Technology Group possesses deep industry knowledge and understanding of clients' technologies, business practices, transactions, and intellectual property assets. Our team is composed of attorneys with technology degrees and backgrounds who fully grasp key industry issues and trends, can provide informed counsel, and can efficiently execute sophisticated technology deals.

Technology companies rely on us for all of their legal matters, from addressing regulatory compliance to protecting and enforcing intellectual property rights to executing an Initial Public Offering to setting up distribution agreements. We work closely with our Banking & Finance, Mergers & Acquisitions, Securities, Litigation, Corporate Business, and Employment Law practice groups to offer clients a full complement of services.
