APPROACH

Ruberto, Israel & Weiner's Construction Law Group understands the complex and fast-moving demands of the construction industry and provides strategic, practical guidance at every stage of a project. We counsel clients from bidding and contract negotiation through performance and payment disputes, and on to project close-out, approvals, and occupancy. Our team advises on insurance and project financing matters, evaluates and mitigates risk, and positions clients to prevent and resolve claims efficiently. When disputes arise, we serve as strong, solutions-oriented advocates focused on achieving favorable outcomes in a cost-effective manner.

RIW represents developers, general contractors, subcontractors, architects, engineers, suppliers, and sureties on both public and private projects.
