Altholtz appointed to volunteer board

Cohasset resident Howie Altholtz has been appointed to the Board of Overseers of the Citi Performing Arts Center (Wang), which now includes the Wang Theatre as well as the Colonial and Shubert.

The volunteer board assists with policy and supports CPAC's efforts in preserving these iconic venues, as well as performance and education programs.

This appointment highlights Altholtz's lifelong commitment to the arts as a marketing executive, media and entertainment lawyer and musician.
